

Placing a premium on data security

THE STORY

With major security breaches in the news these days, data security is top of mind for consumers. All things considered, it's safe to say that security is an important aspect of any successful company.

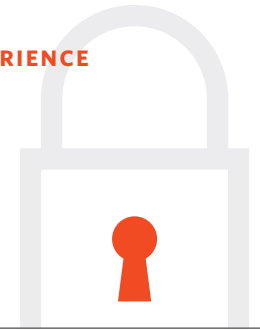

WHY bswift

bswift is 5.5x less likely to experience a security event in comparison to other benefits administration providers.* Backed by Aetna, we're constantly investing in data protection and innovation. With a combined annual budget of $800M and 1,300 personnel resources leveraged across Aetna and its affiliates, we're able to ensure the safety of our customers' health records and benefits strategies.

* According to SecurityScorecard's November 2018 report on benefits administration technology security.

SEE WHAT OUR CUSTOMERS AND PARTNERS HAVE TO SAY ABOUT THE SECURE bswift EXPERIENCE

"We have a very strong security system at Boehringer Ingelheim. We vetted bswift from a security perspective, and the system passed with flying colors." – Stacey Wyszynski, Benefits Specialist, Boehringer Ingelheim bswift is 5.5x less likely to experience a security event than our competitors

"I would recommend bswift because of the security they put around their product and their data with Aetna's backing. I don't think it can be touched."

– Steve Piccolini,
Vice President of National Benefits,
Brown & Brown Insurance

"When you're secure, you don't think about security because you know you're in good hands."

– Vince Ashton,
President & CEO,
HealthPass

"The ability to offer a great tool has really opened up the chain of communication and trust. It allows us to be excellent and respectful while at the same time making sure that we're protecting our employees' data through safety measures...Considering all the news and all the information we hear about data breaches, it's just comforting for us to know that our employees feel comfortable using the system."

– Travis Leis, Manager of Benefits, EnPro Industries
